

.....the history of the fork.....

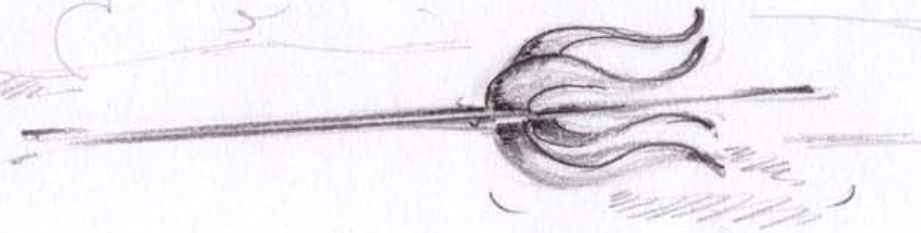

*Once upon a time, in the dark Middle Ages the church fought
the fork as a suspect attribute of the devil.....*

.... and the church emerged victorious....

'Wellhell, this time you won, - but I'll be back and take my fork with me!'

.... Once until, after a while, a young man returning from his travelling years found the fork....

“Oh, what a beautiful little thing
never seen before!
I'll take it with
me.’

*'Alright nobleman,
that's a deal!'*

*'Young man, I give you all my gold for this fork to give it to my darling as a proposal
present!'*

....and so, in the 17th century, noblemen introduced the fork to the society

*....but in the meantime the devil
didn't sleep....*

*'Yes, I will!
Nobody has ever given me such an exquisite present!'*

*'You look so stunning in your dress and your red shoes.....will
you.....?'*

*'Ha ha! Here we go! I'm not your sweet little mistress in her beautiful dress
and her red shoes, fool! Give me the fork, darling!'*

*'Huuuuuu!
Devil!'*

'You won't need my fork anymore.

Have Mc Donald's instead!

Ha ha ha!'
